

Acknowledgement to Reviewers

The Editorial team of the Central European Journal of Urology takes this opportunity to address and reflect upon the work of all of our reviewers.

In last year our article reviewers have been kind enough to devote their knowledge, experience, and time to work hard and selflessly in order to assist the Authors who have been publishing their works in CEJU further improve their science, skills, and art. Moreover, thanks to their invaluable contribution, our readers have been provided with a full range of high quality, masterly edited articles. Their invaluable contribution is and will be remembered, treasured, and met with admiration and gratitude. Since the reviewer's work and contribution have been so substantial and yet anonymous, from now on we will take every opportunity to make their work more visible. To begin, their ideas and scientific contribution will be made available to our Readers in the form of comments and reviews that will accompany selected texts.

With warm regards and greetings,
Tomasz Drewa, Editor-in-Chief
